

LINDSEY
WILSON
COLLEGE

SCHOOL OF
PROFESSIONAL
COUNSELING

Lindsey Wilson College's School of Professional Counseling prepares highly qualified counseling and human services professionals at 28 sites across KY, TN, OH, VA and WV through and the CACREP-accredited M. Ed. in Counseling and Human Development with specialization in Mental Health Counseling and the BA in Human Services & Counseling.

We seek candidates with a passion for nurturing student learning, a desire to work collaboratively, an earned doctorate in Counselor Education and Supervision (strong ABD candidates considered), and license eligibility to fill the position of assistant professor in the School of Professional Counseling. Responsibilities include graduate and undergraduate teaching, student advising, clinical supervision, scholarship, and service.

Successful candidates will demonstrate

- passion for and commitment to effectively challenge and support nontraditional adult learners to be successful
- commitment to excellence in pedagogy
- responsiveness and prompt attention to students, tasks, and responsibilities
- effective use of instructional technologies, software, and tools
- strong communication, interpersonal, and organization skills

Lindsey Wilson College provides tools and support for faculty success, including

- excellent curriculum in Counseling and Human Services
- course stewards provide orientation to the learning objectives; syllabus templates; additional resources; and ongoing collaboration with instructors
- professional development opportunities and funding
- peer mentoring
- excellent faculty –administration communication and support
- laptop computer with software, accessories, and I.T. support for course development, teaching, communication, and scholarly work

Position responsibilities include

- graduate and undergraduate teaching
- student mentoring and advising
- supervision of clinical experiences and development of clinical training sites
- participation in faculty governance
- partnering with recruitment and enrollment staff

Contact: Jacquelyn Montgomery, Associate Dean cell: 270-634-7738 office: 270-384-8171 montgomeryj@lindsey.edu